WALLACE COMMEMORATION CEREMONY 2014.

Fourteen Years on - - - - Where are We ?? Random blethering amongst friends in 2001 raised the question ..... What is happening in 2005 to mark the 700th Anniversary of William Wallace's martyrdom??. As the answer was apparently “nothing”, the resolve was that we should take on that duty. A constituted committee was formed in 2002 and our application for charitable status was approved by the inland revenue in March 2003. The 700th Anniversary Commemoration was a great success, enjoyed by the hundreds who took part and the many thousands of spectators who lined Union Terrace, Union Street or stood in Rosemount Viaduct. Fourteen years on, albeit on a smaller scale, we are still honouring Wallace and the principles for which he stood and died.

*The invitation by Aberdeen City Council Events Team some seven years ago to bring our Ceremony within the umbrella of the City's Tartan Day Celebrations coincided with the stark reality facing us that we could not guarantee to raise the necessary thousands of pounds required every year. Moving our Ceremony from August to July to be part of Tartan Day was a pragmatic and sensible move relieving us of the administrative and structural costs of Road Closures, Stewarding, Publicity etc., ..... whilst we contributed volunteers, colour, music, history, song and the £2000 we could comfortably raise within the year. At the back end of 2013 an article in the P& J alerted us to the City Council decision to cancel Tartan Day and replace it with an “Aberdeen Day”, which we understood would not involve the Wallace Ceremony. As good loyal Burgers O' OUR BRAIR TOWN, we would, as individuals, welcome and support any celebrations of our City , but at a stroke the stark reality we faced in 2007 has been brought back in focus. However be assured that with good response to our current financial appeal combined with the funds we have in reserve, there will be sufficient to ensure that our*
